Let's Make patterns!

Rangoli is a popular Diwali tradition — beautiful patterns made using colourful powders and flowers. People draw Rangoli on the floor by the entrance of their homes to welcome the gods and bring good luck! You can use chalk or any resources to make repeating patterns.

Dry or wet chalk?

You can also try this fun technique outside on your garden path. Take a glass of water with you, or play with chalk in the rain. You might be surprised at how your drawings turn out
